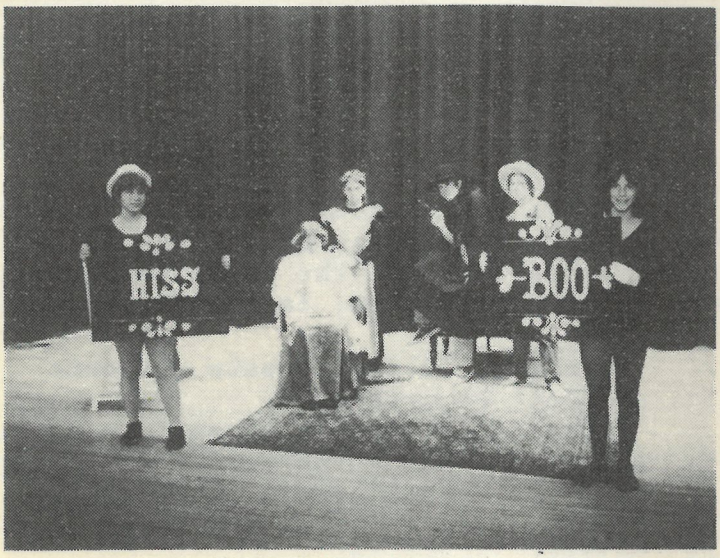
THE MIDDLE SCHOOL GOOD TIMES

Farewell, 8th graders.

106

Vol. #3 #6 Paw Paw Middle School June 7, 1977



Pictured above is a scene from the production "Save the Old Homestead", the melodrama put on by the Drama Club as part of the Arts Festival May 26.

Arts Festival Success

"Save the Old Homestead"was presented in an assembly forthe whole middle school Friday,May 27, and in an evening performancethe night prior. A skit "Who's on First" was done during the play's intermissinns. Ms. Lundquist directed both .

A dance routine choreographed by Mrs. Herm was performed by members of the Paw Paw Jr. Dance Troupe.

As another segment of the Arts Festival, the 7th and 8th grade bands performed Thursday , May 26, under the direction of Mr. D'Aracnagelis.

In the hall ways of the middle school were many displays of the art work done by 6th, 7th, and 8th grade artists throughout the school year.

8th Gr. Annual

The 8th grade Annual Dance was held on Friday, May 20, from 8:00-10:30. There was plenty of music and and everyone danced.

Refreshments were served. There different kinds of sandwiches, carrot and celery slices, candy bar chunks, potato chips and two choices of punch.

Everyone behaved well and even the chaperones had a good time.

Pictures were taken by Mr. Pefley at 75¢ a print for color snaps. Several couples had their pictures taken. Group and singular shots were also taken.

A special thanks goes to Mrs. Baker for sponsoring the dance. Thanks also to the chaperones and parents who took time to come. Tahkns also to Mr. Brill for letting us have this dance and we appreciate it.

C.W. for the 8th grade

Little League Season

Baseball season is upon us. The first game for the minor league was played May 23 and the last one is August 8. They play 21 games. The teams are sponsored by the following: Elks, Labadie Oil, American Legion, Lugar Heating, Wine Distributors, A &W, Pacer and John Dir.

The major leagues began the day after on May 24 and will play until July 21. They play 16 games. The teams are as follows: A.F. Murch, Lions Club, Rice Realtors, Warner Vineyards and St. Julians.

by S.H.

SPORTS FIRSTS

Two sports firsts this year for the middle school were a tennis team and a track team that competed in interschool competition. The tennis team under the coaching of Mr. Zolp finished the season by beating the Paw Paw High School Jr Varsity. The track team was coached by Mr. Jones and showed fine acheivement on the field and in setting school records.

2 More Days .....

Have a good Summer!

FAREWELLS ... of a Sort

We of the eighth grade are leaving the middle school this year; all right we're leaving the old Red Brick. This is a painful time for all eighth graders. (we are suffering headaches from studying for finals).

We leave behind our dear 6th and 7th grade friends .(So long, you little twirps! -said jokingly)

And what about all the teachers we like and admire? (the rats, giving me a D- when I should've had A's)

And all the delicious food we're going to miss ?(good food for a stray dog, that is.)

So farewell middle school. (maybe it's not so hard to leave and move on.)

And hello high school. (High School? oh no!...)

More Fond Farewells...

Dear Eighth Grade,

How are you? We are fine. We all are going to miss you very much.(Ha! Ha!) We will miss your kindness to the 6th and 7th graders (the gentle treatment in the hall and on the bus). We will miss the cunning and wit. (that is, considering most of you are presently creating witty ways to explain why you're flunking)

The busdrivers also will miss you?

And, in parting, let me quote Mrs. Baker, "Keep eatin' those peas!" Yes Eighth Grade good-bye and good luck. You'll need it where you're going!

Good Times by K.G. Advisor

Dear Good Times Advisor,

I have a girlfriend problem. I think I am kind of attractive? What can I do to make her notice me?

Lovesick and Lonely

Dear L.S.L.,

I'd suggest that you make her notice you. Borrow a pen, a piece of paper, anything from her. If that doesn't work, tell her you like her (even if you hardly know her) It has always worked for me.

Also write down all your good points and your bad points. Then work on bringing out your strong points and improving your weak ones.

write your problems care of room 103 Answers will appear in September. Hope you can hodl out that long.

THE BIONIC PICKLE

You've heard of the six-million dollar man and the bionic woman. Everyone knows they were created by Dr. Rudy Wells. Well, here's someone new- the Bionic Pickle.

Let me give you some background on the bionic pickle (affectionately known as the Dynamite Cucumber or Mr. Green).

One day Dr. Wells decided to try to create another bionic being to help stop crime. It had to be an excellent specimen. A monkey? Acow? Suddenly his secretary walked in.

"Here's your lunch, Dr. Wells," she said.

He turned around and saw his lunch on his desk. It was the usual hamburger, juicy dill pickle, carrot slices, and milk. A pickle?

"that's it! I'll create a bionic picjle!" he cried.

The surgery was perfommed at once. The pickle was given bionic arms, legs, ears, eyes, and even a bionic brain. The pickle was tested and found in excellent condition.

The next step would be to introduce the pickle to the ataff as top secret. He was to be called Mr. Green. Everyone liked him at once.

After Mr. Green's introduction, the fun was over and it was time to work.

The dynamite cucumber 's first assignment was to stop a bank robbery.(Rudy decided to have the cucumber build up to the tough assignemtns). Mr. Green ran down the street to the First National Bank. Just seconds after he arrived, three robbers came in. They forced every one to put heir hands in the air. The dynamite cucumber would do no such thing.

Instead, he squirted vinegar into the eyes of the leader, karate chopped the next robber and powerfully paralyzed the third. The effects of the vinegar did not last long. The leader was after the pickle in no time. The pickle bombarded the leader with cucumber seeds. But even these weren't working. Now the robber that had been stunned by the karate chop came to. He fired bullets at the pickle but he kept dodging them.

"What can I do? Everything I try seems to fail." He thought. "I know, I'll bionically change my pickle juice into a gas and put the robbers to sleep."

He changed his juice and squirted the robbers with gas. They fell asleep.

See page 8 for the ending

Good Times 8th Grade Issue June 7, 1977

It has become a tradition of the Good Times to run a special 8th grade issue every year at this time. Every eighth grader is asked to reply to three questions:"What will you miss most about the middle school?""What advice would you give to the 6th and 7th graders?"and " As though you were writing a "will", tell us what you would leave and to whom?"

In response tothe first question, "what will you miss most?", we collected the following answers.

Doug Griggs will miss "doing my dips on the dip bar after every hour."

Jon Duell will miss "my books and my locker that has gone through a lot this year."

Lynn Rowan thinks she'll miss "reading lab - my going out in the hall and talking."

Darrin Nagy will miss" the fun I had here after school and during. Also, the teachers I had were pretty cool- though they gave too much homework."

Doug Fowler will miss "old Snoopy and Woodstock in Ms. Ruggles' room."

Chris Clement will miss "Mr. Barnes and citizenship."

Don Czuhewski may miss "the fire drills in winter."

Jeff Fadel and Jim Imus state they won't miss much.

Steve Hill reminisces over"the substitutes and the way the teachers talk to the students after school."

Gay Burchard will miss" Mrs. Baker's lectures and the way Mr. Zopl 'wiggles' his mustache."

Lynn Smith will miss "waiting to get out of 'it' (the middle school)"

Kathy Brill says she'll miss "the dances, stinky socks and all. Also, getting sent down to the principal's office."

Russ Hoffmann will miss "all the posters in Ms. Ruggles' room and the planes in Mr. Edinger's room. I don't think I'll miss anything else; certainly I won't miss the food."

Emily Miller will miss "some of the really super nice teachers like Mr. Snyder, Mrs. Howard, Mr. Erickson and Mrs. Baker."

Julie Breitenbach isn't sure what she'll miss but it"sure won't be the lunches."

Shelly Lewis will miss" the peanuts in in the lunch room and Mr. Edinger's advice to eat the vegetables, especially spinach."

Danny Lammers says he'll miss "the sweet teachers." ("snicker, snicker.")

Jim Kondor will miss "the teachers and the gym room as well as the once-was track team! I'm also going to miss Mr. Edinger's cold rooms all season long."

Sandy Mayne will miss " the kind understanding of some of the teachers and Mr. Topp's films and "Uncle Herman."

Kim Wright will miss"all my teachers, especially Mr. Snyder and last year's fourth hour science."

Randy Terry will miss " Mrs. Baker's funny jokes about English and Ms. Lundquist's funny faces and remarks."

Steve Bare said " if you want my two-cents-worth, then after I count one, two three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine ten, I will. So here we go : one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten ..."

Rick Bradford will miss " all the 6th, 7th and 8th grade girls chasing me up and down the hall just to look at my beautiful face."

Tara Moore will miss " the littleness of it/ In this school, you know everybody and every body knows you. In the high school, you might know everybody in your grade but there's always somebody new."

Missy Kinter says she'll remember "Mr. Barnes' corny jokes- what would we do without witty science teachers?! "

Brad Hoger will miss "beating Mr. Kannegieter in a paddleball game."

Ron Vanderwall will remember his "poor little reading lab folder which over the year had 50 or more notes on it, all of whihc I had to wash off."

Mike Kunow will miss, (I suspect this is verbal irony)" the food ; I love to eat that food, especially the pizza."

KEVIN Scotese will remember getting "Mr. Kannegieter into a skatterball game and ganging up on him."

Vadla MCKinney will miss "Mr. Edinger and his quotes from history."

Jim Rice will miss " all the good times we used to have, even if there weren't many, and Mr. Stenner's (Grizzly's) neat shirts and ties.

Bryan Bacon will miss " the stuff they give us in the lunch room that they call food and also Mrs. Baker's dead plants and Mr. Stenner's bush on his face."

SEE NEXT PAGE

Mike Brugh will miss "framing Scott Terry in Mr. Edinger's class."

Rick Pugley will miss the "smog filled and athlete's-foot-infested locker rooms."

Shawn Shinaberry will remeber " the delicious hot lunches and the quiet heaters that run on hot days and don't run on cold days. "

Patty Thayer will miss "the teachers and younger friends."

Sheila White will miss " Mr. Edinger and his jokes, Mr. Erickson and his talks, Mr. Hamre, and the stinky shower rooms."

Judy Felsyn will miss "my favorite teacher, Mrs. Baker. I'll prove to her nobody's sending me to a home!"

Mark Noble will miss "Ms. Buehler and Mrs. Herm".

Tom Reits will miss " the thought of being the oldest group in the school."

Chris Willsea will miss " the annual plays and the fun I've had. I'll especially miss joking with the teachers. But at least I'll be rid of the nicknames "Bumpers' "Bobbie", and "Martha". Now I can stick to Chris."

Colleen McKenzie will miss " the teachers especially Mrs. Baker, Mr. Zopl and Mrs. Chavoya. They really helped me a lot this year."

Lorry Gates will remember "Mr. Erickson' corny jokes, the stinky showers, Mr. Topp, and Mr. Martin when he blushes."

Lori Knapp will miss "the activites and the fun of working for them and then seeing them come out as a big success."

Pam Adasm will miss "Mr. Edinger's juicy morsels."

Kevin Mills will miss "trying to figure out what they feed us at lunch time.(most of the time it looks like it's alive!)"

Chris Berry will not "miss that much except for being the big shots in the 8th gr. and having to give that up for high school."

Dave Schuster will miss "that school bus and those things up to the right of the school bus by the wall and the chalkboard in room 103." (he means the citizenship charts in English!)

Terrence Cutler will miss "the teachers who are nice people out of the classroom. I'll miss the building itself."

Ruth Longcore will miss "the fire drills and the delicious food? Most of all I will miss Mr. Wiggles and his mustache who, by the way, is still here in room 213."

Judy Hysell will miss " the zany teachers who like to have fun in class like Ms. Lundquist and Mr. Topp. They always make you laugh."

Nola Underwood will miss "Mr. Snyder, Ms. Lundquist and Mrs. Baker. I'll miss her wise cracks."

Amy Jensen will miss " the drip drops from the leaking ceiling."

That wraps up the what will we miss section....

The eighth grade had much in the way of advice to the younger students.

Shelly Larson advises " watch out for Mrs. Baker before you leave your lunch mess on the table."

Terry Cutler says "don't tear the building apart. There are a lot more kids who have to go to this school."

Jeff Turner suggests " drop out now while you still have the chance!"

Lori Flowers suggests " you get in good with he teachers if you want good grades."

Tammi Flowers warns " keep flunking; when you get to high school, we are bringin back 9th grade initiations."

Ken Thompson advises " look out for the 8th grade teachers."

Pam Huff suggests " nver get into a fight near the boys' rest room; you are likely to get pushed in!"

Lorinda Heighton says "don't ever get into an argument with the teachers. They always come out on top."

Colleen McKenzie suggests getting " involved with student council, sports etc. and to make the most out of your middle school years, which can be a lot of fun if you want hem to be."

Jan Mollitor advises " study hard. It makes your teachers ahppy. Try to be as wise and mature acting as we are."

Dolores Torrey advises " stay out of trouble , keep your grades up and have a lot of fun."

Continued on next page

p.5 Good Times 8th Grade Issue JUNE 7, 1977

MORE ADVISE...

Tal Bentley suggests " don't get behind because if you do, it's curtains for certains."

Julie Woodhasms says" don't pass notes in class."

Janis Schroeder urges you "to get involved in activities and have a lot of fun; your middle school years don't last forever."

Lynn Rowan says" never use the pencil sharpener in Mr. Topp's room; it eats your pencils up."

Doug Fowler suggests " watch out for Mrs. Dobbs. She will teach you math anyway she can whether you like it or not."

Cathy Wiler advises "don;t let the teachers get you down. Don't get caught sleeping in class especially if you sit in the front seat and snore."

Russ Towle says " watch out fro all of the teachers, mainly Ms. Ruggles ! "

Gay Burchard advises "6th graders watch out fro Mr. Watterworth's deadly golf swing. If all else fails, drop out."

Laurie Blacksten suggests "have as much fun as you can while you're still in the middle school."

Don Lucas puts his advice in two words:"Don't flunk."

Jeff Nelson advises you to "move!"

Jerry Danger warns "don't take hot lunch."

Amy Hop reminds "check all the ketchup bottles' covers in the lunch room to be sure no one unscrewed the caps as a joke."

Tara Moore advises "keep your lockers clean and neat. Among things I lost in the depths of my locker are: 3 pairs of gym socks, one math book, one history book, lots of music, and all my combs."

Missy Kinder says "don't trust people taller than you."

Twila Force says " do your work and pass so you can see the high school."

Dan Schincariol warns "don;t eat the food."

Rory Sherburn advises "don't even try to talk yourself out of a misconduct; it will never work. I tell you."

~~Fred Allen~~ advises "get in good with all the teachers and don't pull the fire alarms. Some more advice for the guys, tell Mr. Kannegieter you are going to wrestle in 9th grade if you watn to improve your chances of an A in gym."

Peg Rumery says "stay away from he spiders and never sit in the hall during the 6th grade lunch."

Sheila White says kiddingly "hassle the 8th grade teachers especially Mr. Edinger."

Mike Beebe leaves what he says is the only advice the younger students will understand/use - "none."

Marla Galbraith warns "be cautious; some of these teachers are a little strange at times and it could be contagious. But really, enjoy your 8th grade class."

Joyce Schallhorn says "always joke with the teachers; they need all the laughs they can get. For April Fool's day, give Mr. Edinger your peas and tell him to practice what he preaches. Good luck- you will need it."

Rick Pugsley suggest you "bring peptobismal to lunch."

Cathy Ross wishes you "good luck."

Laurie Adams says " stay out of trouble. How those misconducts could hurt! Get your homework done on time in Ms. Ruggles' class so you can get 90% and not have to take the 6-week exams."

Shawn Shinaberry sums up the advice section with an interesting thought "don't trust the 8th graders; they lie."

Now- on to the "last will and testaments " ... what each 8th grader would leave to whom and why.

Diane Bailey leave "my messy locker, my desk, my book with my autograph in it to whoever gets them in the years to come."

Robin Lantz leaves to Mrs. Baker "a locker full of peas."

Paula Sampsell also donates her peas to Mrs. Bakerand leaves "my old papers and books to Lynn Rix and my spelling books to whomever can uz them."

Russ Hoffmann says "being of sound mind and body (no comments please), I leave my gym socks to whomever wants them although I doubt anyone would want them. I leave my journals to Ms. Ruggles except for the deodorizer one which will be burned at the stake."

p.6 Good Times 8th Grade Issue June 7, 1977

WILLS AND TESTAMENTS ETC.....

Kathy Brill leaves "all my science and math notesbooks to my brother, Scott in hopes that he gets as much out of them as I did."

Janet Gilman leaves " Mr. Zolp to the 7th graders, and Mrs. Herm to them also. She is a great music teacher and I know you will like her."

Tara Rhodes wills " Mr. Zolp and Mr. Edinger to the 7th graders. Have fun."

Bryan Casasanto leaves " to any 6thand 7th grader who wants it, my 2 year collection of ABC gum."

Julie Breitenbach leaves "my comb to Lorry who needs it."

Lisa Keenan leaves " the old lunch in my locker to my brother Paul. It consists of a hard peanut butter sandwich a dead twinkie, and a rotten banana."

Rick Halseth wills his " antique sneakers that have gone trhough 20 million mud puddles to Mr. Edinger."

Chris Baker leaves, "being of unsound mind and body" and bequeath my 8th grade journal to Ms. Ruggles,&my planet report to Mr. Barnes. "

Larry Conklin would leave " my brother Bob McKnight to Julie Alsup."

Connie Revore would leave"all my love notes to locker 116. I would leave all my bubble gum wrappers to Mrs. Baker."

Janice Bain leaves "my books to the trash can, my locker to someone who doesn't have a lot of junk and my gym locker to someone with good taste."

Jenny Glomski leaves a "locker full of papers."

Sean McManus leaves "half of my massive muscles ot Mr. Kannegieter and half to the 7th grade to dissect and see if they can determine hoe one lone person can have so much strength!"

Rick Bradford wills " to Jim Bare, the gym towel Doug Cyrus left me last year which I used this year plus as a special attraction it has not been washed in two years. So when you come out of gym class you will come out smelling like a stink weed. I also leave you my good looks."

Dave Rivette leaves " everything to his family and nothing to the school. I would leave my bike to Mark Hoger and my skate board that I haven't got yet would go with me."

Rod Millek leaves " his library affines to Jim Duell so he can try to pay them off."

Laura Vesey leaves to Rocky Sherburn and Mike Hartmann my book 501 Ways to Cheat in Math, to Sue Dent I leave my charm and personality, and to my sister Karen I leave my gym locker and the enticing aroma.

Another fragrant locker is donated to anyone who can stand the two smellie lockers on the other side says Beth Hoogstratten.

Pam Filipunas donates her English notes to Teri Ross.

Brad Hoger wills his"marvelous basketball skills to Shawn Jurgensen."

Mary Atwater leaves her messy locker "to Mr. Zolp."

Jim Bryan leaves "to Mrs. Baker my broken pencil in book #75-20, to Mr. Zolp I leave my broken calculator under his desk, and to the 6th and 7th gradrs I leave my map to show where all my wads of chewed gum are."

Jim Stearns donates "my body to Mr. Barnes for science and I leave my muscular body to Mr. K."

Laurie Adams "leaves my vegetables to Mr. Edinger, in hopes that he gets some muscles, and I leave Mr. Zolp to the 7th graders since he's real good at adding and subtracting."

Tom Smith wishes " the teachers his good wishes and thanks them for their help. I also want to wish them good luck teaching the kids in their future."

Rick Pugsley states "being of sound body, I hereby donate my brain to Mr. Snyder as a token of my infection. To Mr. Erickson, I leave my yogurt and cottage cheese, and Joyce Schallhorn donates "to Mr. Cassell my sicence desk which he can cut into tooth picks,(about all it's worth), To any cute 7th grade guys I leave my phone number, and to my sister Ileave all my skill and good looks."

Bryan Bacon states "being of sick mind and body, I leave Mrs. Baker my jokes and my wonderful sense of humor, To Nick I leave my chicken bones, and to Mr. Snyder I donate my beautiful body for dissection, except do not dissect my nose because of post nasal drip."

Good Times 8th Grade Issue June 7, 1977

STILL MORE WILLS...

Marla Galbraith leaves "to Jill Stiglich and Barbie Brennan, all my teachers including "Ma", known to you as Mrs. Baker, and all my well done papers and my so-interesting class books. Have fun."

Fred Allen leaves " all my work from English to Any Stamp so he can flunk it next year, my gym socks to Mr. Kannegieter to wake up his gym class and I leave my height to Scott Cyrus so he won't be a midget all his life."

Russ Towle donates to "Mr. Kannegieter I leave my gym locker, to Mr. D. I leave my three detentions and I leave being tall to Ms. Ruggles."

Lynn Rowan doneates to "Mrs. Smith an adding machine."

Mike Markus leaves " to anyone who or gets their lunch, I'll give them mine that has been here since the beginning of the school year."

Jon Duell "would like to leave my platform shoes to Ms. Ruggles and I leave all my pencils to my brother."

Darrin Nagy leaves "to Russ Towle all my golf balls at the bottom of the pond at Mark's Golf Course. Good luck getting them out."

Stan Benzie would like Mr. Zolp "to ahve all my pencils."

Ron Vanderwall leaves " all my A papers to Ken Dietz who will never have one."

Tim Thomas donates " one year's supply of school lunches to my dog,I'd like to have Sonny Richmond, faithful servant, receive my locker handle that he has pulled all year, and I also have one set of Dobbs-Zolp math notes for sale, very clean and cheap. 657-6716! "

Mike Marcelletti leaves " to Ms. Ruggles my wit, to Kyle Caldwell, well never mind, ...to Mr. Erickson, I leave a book on UFO's, my love for sci-fi to all of the other sci-fi fans, to Mr. Edinger his bad, old jokes, and finally to Ms. Ruggles I leave 5 inches of height."

Keith Hughes leaves "my books, my locker and Mrs. Baker. Everything else goes with me."

Scott Terry leaves "my pencils to Mike Prawat who will probably need them since will probably flunk any way and besides he's always taking them."

Kaye Krause leaves " to Ms. Ruggles and Mrs. Baker, I leave my step-ladder because they are so short."

Randy Counterman leaves "too all the 8th grad teechers I leev mi far sooperier minde."

Jim Ricel donates " to Bryan Bacon one snowmobile, a buil-in pool, ndoor tennis court, and ownership of the Los Angles Rams."

Mike Brugh leaves "my weirdness to anyone who thinks they can fulfill the position the way I did."

Mark Hoger leaves " to Scott Warren all my good records and to my borther Dave a carnation."

Kevin Mills donates his "books to Ed's Butcher Shop since they're full of baloney and all my papers to a writing interpreter."

Dave Schuster leaves "my locker to whomever it was assigned to "

Terry Cutler leaves "all my A papers and knowlegge to Bonnie Caper and to Mark Bankston my locker and all the foot odor from my boots."

Shelley Larson leaves " to Debbie Terry the southeast corner fo the gym during dances."

Ruth Longcore leaves "my uncanny ability to talk constantly without getting tired and still get along with the teachers and to Peggy Burchard I' will leave all my math papers even though they are all D's"

Judy Hysell leaves " to Mr. Edinger his peace of mind. He will need it for next year. To Mr. Topp I leave my kindness."

Chris Willsea leaves " my bananas to Mr. Topp, "Grizzly", and my deodorant in my gym locker to whoever gets that locker and also to Ms. Ruggles, I leave my height; she needs it."

Jeff Fadel donates to Mr. Zolp "an acute triangel ith two parallel sides and one English handbook to Mrs. Pfister."

Lisa Masten leaves "my science book and Mr. Barnes to Missy Barnes; maybe she can do something with them."

Tal Bentley leaves " his ability to sleep through any lecture or movie a teacher can throw at you."

Dolores Torrey leaves "to Ms. Lundquist my drawings that aren't so hot, to Mr. Snyder my dissected worms and last, I'll leave my burned cookies to Mrs. Jacher."

Good Times 8th Grade Issue June 7, 1977

WILLS- THEY NEVER END?....

Colleen McKenzie leaves "to 'Wiggles" who was mentioned in a recent issue of Good Times a 14 kt. gold mustache comb, and to anyone who has Mr. Snell I'd leave my own-self-written guide on " How to Get Your Objectives Done" (and come out with a B- average) based on my own 7th grade experiences."

Lori Knapp says "i leave my name on almost every library book in the library and I hereby bequeath to Mrs. Herm a bull whip to share among the teachers next year."

Pam Adams says "I leave my charm and intelligence to Heidi Berterman and Holly Ortman."

Wendy DeValle leaves " all my vegetables to Mr. Edinger and all the peas to Mrs. Baker; they're her favorite."

Sue Hamilton leaves "my science tests to anybody who wants to fail 8th grade science, my unused absence excuses to anybody who will change the name and date on them and last but not least I leave the band music I have collected since 6th grade to Mr. D'Arcangelis since I was supposed to give it back any way."

There were several wills from other 8th graders . We unfortunately cannot print all 8th graders'comments in all three categories so we have chosen what we hope is a representative and a not-too-repetitive collection.

THE GOOD TIMERS

editors: Kyle Caldwell, Shawn Thompson

News editors: Monica Barker, Chris Willsea

feature editors: Carol Dundon, Diane Zalewski

sports editors: Ed McKee, Carl Erickson Scott Hall, Sonny Richmond

bus. manager: Mike Marcelletti student council info: Skott Brill reporters: Debbie Terrell, Carol Boley, Melissa Barnes, Cheryl Crouse, Nita Ricketson, Craig Vandenberg, Marty Root, JOIN US AGAIN in fall; see September bulletin for exact time and place.

Spotlight

This month's faculty spotlight focuses on Mr. Pefley.

He is 38 years old and married. He has a 13 year-old daughter, Lisa, and an 8 year-old son Tom.

Favorite animal: any member of the cat family

Favorite food: steak and lobster

Favorite song: "The Last Farewell"

Favorite sport: bowling

Favorite male singer : Glen Campbell

Favorite Female singer: Toni Tennile

Favorite hobby: fishing

Favorite color: chartreuse

Mr. Pefley is the middle school counselor.

N.R.

Spotlight

Under protest, the following faculty spotlight was conducted with Ms. Ruggles, Good Times advisor.

Favorite color : orange, green and brown

Favorite actress: Lassie

Favorite actor: Robert Redford

Favorite food: cookies

Favorite song: all of them

Favorite animal : cats, specifically Irving and Zelda, her own cats

Zodiac sign: Libra

Favorite topic of reading: psychology

Hobbies: grammar, jogging, tennis, and reading by C.B.

BIONIC PICKLE CONTINUES

One robber was dreaming about his teddy bear.

Since this assignment went so well, Dr. Wells decided to give him another. This one he never carried out , for the dynamite cuke fell in love and married a common dill named Vlasic.

You say you've never heard of the bionic pickle? Well that's understandable ; his was a brief career.

You see, Vlasic ran off and divorced him for Heinz. The divorce was too much for him. He committed suicide by ripping out his bionic parts and leaping into a grinder. Alas he turned to relish. Worse still, the relish was bottled accidentally.

When the news came out, those who knew began boycotting pickle relish. Do you have pickle relish in your house? Watch out! It could be the remains of the bionic pickle.

by C. Willsea